

Lily and Amanda Smart were sisters who lived in a very tall house made of purple bricks.

The house was so tall that it would sway in the strong wind and Lily and Amanda would feel a bit sea-sick.

The house overlooked a park full of beautiful trees.

Every day the Smart sisters would walk to school through the park.
When they arrived they were always happy and smiling,
ready to learn and play.

After school they would walk home through the park.
When they arrived home they were always happy and smiling,
ready to help with special jobs around the house.

Like feeding the chooks scraps from the kitchen.

And walking their dogs Duster and Buster.

And giving their ponies Honkey and Stomper some hay.

