

Sophie peered into her classroom.

She wasn't ready to go in yet.

How she wished her classmates were elephants... Then they could all whirl and twirl together.

Sophie thought no other animal was as funny, playful and kind as an elephant.

Sophie found it hard to sit still.

She was always...

wiggling

and

jiggling

...when she was supposed to be listening.

